

2025 Carbon Smart Construction Site Labelling Scheme

Co-organized by DevB & EPD

Result

The HKCA has launched the "Best Practice Guideline for Carbon Smart Construction Site," outlining effective carbon reduction strategies for the industry. In response, the Carbon Smart Construction Site Labelling Scheme has been established to further promote carbon reduction efforts. This label signifies a commitment to actively reducing carbon emissions.

An independent judging panel, comprising experts from the Development Bureau (DevB) and the Environmental Protection Department (EPD), evaluated the entries and determined the projects eligible for the Label.

Eligible projects

A total of 220 projects participated in this scheme. Score assessment began in January and was completed in February.

The Judging Panel is satisfied with the environmental standards and performance of the following entrants and recommends them eligible for the Label of Carbon Smart Construction Site:
